Summary of the role GIS will play in your organization's long-term goals and business initiatives

GIS will provide the best value technology to build spatial data and applications; which meet the needs of decision makers; and to improve the efficiency of state operations. Ideally; DOA's GIS services will become the focal point whereby any citizen or agency needing basic information may get one-stop access to state geospatial services.

How might the GIO's office assist with your organization's operation and/or long-term goals?
